

Dr. William Moreau Goins

December 2, 1961 - November 11, 2017

Dr. William Moreau Goins, affectionately known as “Will,” departed this earthly life on Saturday, November 11, 2017, in Columbia, South Carolina. Born in Washington, District of Columbia, on December 2, 1961, he was the youngest of three children born to Elsie Taylor Goins and the late William M. Goins, Jr. Dr. Goins grew up knowing of his Cherokee heritage on both his mother’s and father’ side of the family. His maternal grandparents were both natives of South Carolina and both of his paternal grandparents were natives of North Carolina. Like most Americans of the twenty-first century, he was truly an “All American,” with ancestors from other cultures. He embraced his Cherokee and Tuscarora heritage at a very young age and this heritage became a significant part of who he was.

Will Moreau Goins was a historic preservationist, published author, communications professional and community leader. He also was a folklorist, cultural presenter, chanter-singer, dancer, artist, education, arts administrator and advocate for diversity and multiculturalism. Dr. Goins served as CEO for the Eastern Cherokee, Southern Iroquois and United Tribes of South Carolina (State recognized), statewide tribal organization. All accolades aside, Will was a loving, attentive son, a concerned and devoted brother, a fun-loving and doting uncle and a consistently caring friend. He had an infectious laugh and an exhilarating spirit that could always visualize new possibilities.

Dr. Goins began his education in Washington, D.C., and a graduate of Gonzaga College High School. He earned his Bachelor of Arts Degree in Anthropology and Communications from George Washington University; Master of Arts Degree (M.Ed.) in Educational Administration and a Ph.D. Degree from Pennsylvania State University. For over 35 years, he worked extensively in all areas of communications, TV, Radio, Film and Journalism.

For more than fifteen years, Dr. Goins was active in the Boy Scouts of America, obtaining his “Eagle Scout,” and three palms. He also received the Vigil Honor of the “Order of the Arrow” and the “Pro Deo et Patria” Award, the Lutheran Award for serving “God and Country.”

Early in his career, Will worked for the Bureau of Indian Affairs in Washington, D.C. and later worked for the U. S Department of Health and Human Services, U. S. Indian Health Service in Louisiana and Mississippi. He worked for the University of Nebraska ETV.

In 2000, Dr. Goins was appointed to the SC Ad Hoc American Indian Taskforce established by Governor Hodges. Dr. Goins helped to establish The South Carolina Governor's Ad Hoc American Indian Task Force, which culminated in fostering policy changes and state legislation to deliver services to Native American, Hispanic/Latino, Asian American, as well as African American citizens in S.C. He initiated the South Carolina official observation of National Native American Indian Heritage Month, which was officially acknowledged as a statewide observance by 3 Governors. In 2013, Dr. Goins was instrumental in getting the South Carolina General Assembly to recognize November 18, as "Native American Awareness Day," in South Carolina, which will be celebrated annually.

Dr. Goins produced, directed and wrote on various projects including "Mending the Circle," which included all the Native communities of South Carolina. His other films he produced and directed are "We are One Omaha" for Nebraska ETV; "Bring Our People Back to Health," a three part series for Indian Health Service. He also had a featured role in "We Remember 400 Years" and "Coloring the Media."

Dr. Goins had an expansive professional career and his experiences included: guest curator for a year-long exhibit "Traditions, Change and Celebration: Contemporary Native Artists in the Southeast," which featured more than 145 objects by 74 artists representing 28 different tribal affiliations, which appeared at McKissick Museum at the University of South Carolina. He assisted with the inaugural FolkFabulous Festival in 2013. He had continued to be a vital part of this festival up to 2017.

Dr. Goins was the founder of the "Annual Southeastern Native American Indian Film and Video Festival," which presents a series of films produced by, directed by, and starring Native American people for the last twenty years. He was passionate about his film festival which he believes would serve to educate the public and expose one to diversified cultural heritages.

Dr. Goins served as educational consultant to numerous school districts across the country and in the state of South Carolina on improving the academic achievement of underrepresented populations in education and faculty curriculum development. He travelled the State speaking at numerous schools reaching students from K-12 to higher education. He designed and developed the Heathwood Hall Medicine Wheel Garden in 2010.

Wright Museum of African-American History, Detroit, Michigan; member of the Advisory Committee for The Road Trip! Through South Carolina Civil Rights History; a resource for the Upcountry Historical Museum; member of the state recognized American Indian Chamber of Commerce of South Carolina (AICCSA); collaborating grants writer and historian for the Tuscarora Indian Nation Replica Village and Museum.

Dr. Goins was also instrumental in editing: "Jazz Talk" and "The People Speak: A Collection of Writings by South Carolina Native Americans in Poetry, Prose, Essays & Interviews".

Will served on numerous boards including: South Carolina Traditional Arts Network; the Modjeska Monteith Simkins Center for Justice, Ethics, and Human Rights; South Carolina Department of Mental Health Cultural Competency Committee; Chairman of the Interfaith Partners of South Carolina (IPSC); and on the Speakers' Bureau of the South Carolina Humanities Council.

Dr. Goins was the recipient of numerous awards including: the "2008 Jean Laney Harris Folk Heritage Award" which recognized his lifetime achievement in traditional arts, an award created by the South Carolina General Assembly, the South Carolina Arts Commission and the University of South Carolina's McKissick Museum; SC "Master Artist" Awardee; and 2011 Scholarship Awardee National Native Arts and Culture's Fund "Strengthening the Bones."

Dr. Will Moreau Goins lived life to the fullest. His love for theatre was abounding. He loved Broadway musical and travelled to New York as often as he could to catch a play. He was famous for standing in a line to get tickets to his favorite shows and getting autographs at the stage door. He was a strong supporter of the Columbia Arts Community with his roles in many plays and musicals at Workshop Theatre, Trustus Theater, Harbison Theatre and in most recent Town Theater. He enjoyed performing at each and every show and embraced each role.

In addition to his maternal and paternal grandparents, he was preceded in death by his father.

He leaves to cherish precious memories his devoted, loving and caring mother Elsie; his loving brother Wendell and devoted sister-in-law Mindy; and his sister Felicia; his four nieces: Amanda Catherine, Elizabeth Louise, Rebecca Renee, and Gwendolyn Patricia; four aunts: Joan Lee, Dorothy Taylor, Hiawatha Goins-Baron and Frances Goins; one uncle, John B. “ I have only just seen this page. I was privileged to meet Will on several occasions on his visits to the UK and have many treasured memories of times spent with him and our dear mutual friend Carlisle Antonio. He used to send me sweet messages on my birthday and at New Years and Christmas. Only recently while sorting through boxes I came across a whole folder of pictures I took of him telling stories and talking to people about native medicines in the Chelsea Physic Garden in London. A lovely, wise, talented and gentle man, taken too soon. Fondly remembered always. Marion

“ I have just come across this memorial page. Will is a sad loss. Such a lovely person and so dedicated to what he believed in. My family and I met him in 1997 in Swansea, South Wales, UK. The photo of him is with my daughter, Gwenny, who was 11 years old that week. We have never forgotten the things he talk to us about during that two weeks and will always remember him. RIP Will.

“ I could not go on Friday to join in the tribute to and share memories of Will with his friends and family. There is nothing I can add that has not been said by others - Will was, as we all know, an extraordinary human being in his kindness, generosity, talent, energy and selfless work on behalf of his fellow human beings. The world is a a better place for his having been here, and a poorer place for his having left it too soon.

“ My sincerest condolences to the family of my best friend, spirit walker, brother and mentor, that I have known for the past 25 years.

Will was an inspiration to me and we talked often. He worked on my film 'Coloring the Media' and through the work of a non-profit organization 'The American Indian Trust'

I brought Will over to Europe where he was a proud ambassador for his people and thrilled audiences who came to watch and hear his songs and storytelling.

The week before he passed, he and I spoke and he told me that "(he) was very tired and exhausted" - as we had spoken about the continuing struggles for Native rights. We also spoke about several others we had known who also passed recently , such as 'Dennis Banks'.

Will said to me about "who will tell my story before I am all gone" - Little did I know at the time that this beautiful person whom I had known for the best part of my life would have been called away to 'Walk that Spirit Trail' so suddenly.

Thank you Will for all the wonderful memories and stories we shared over the years. You are deeply missed my dear friend and mentor.

As an addendum to this message - I would like to add the following. On the Sunday, the day after Will had passed I was notified by a mutual friend of Will and I that he had passed. Of course in my state of shock I thought that this friend must be terribly mistaken and mentioned to her that I had only spoken with Will a week ago and this could not have been possible.

With that in mind I sent Will a message on Facebook and said "How are you brother?" On Facebook when someone has seen the message their profile picture is visible. I know Will received my message, because his profile picture signed on to my message for a brief moment and then it quickly went away.

I realize now that you came by to say 'goodbye' - Love to you my brother, best friend, mentor and 'Spirit Walker' - Safe travels on that ole spirit trail.

R.I.P

Your old friend

“ When I got the word that Will suddenly passed away, I was in total shock. I had just talked to him the day before and was scheduled to be on his film festival panel to review a film Tuesday night. I am still trying to wrap my head around all of this. He was a friend, he was a mentor, he was an American Indian, he was so knowledgeable of Indian heritage. He truly cared for South Carolina Indians and fought to bring help, justice and knowledge on behalf of all the Indians in this state. I had the upmost respect for Will. We had many conversations together and I joined him in some of the fights for Indian injustice. I learned so much from him and I will always admire as well as miss his friendship. There will be an empty place in South Carolina Indian Country forever with the loss of Will. I am honored to have known him, work with him and proud to call him a friend. November is American Indian Awareness Month, he was working hard on this and I too have been very busy on behalf of my Tribe the Beaver Creek Indians.

I am so sorry to not have been at his memorial service but I will attend any other services or honor services for him. To the whole Goins family you are in our thoughts and prayers during this most difficult time. We will meet with you soon.

“ Will Moreau was a very special friend to everyone who met him. He was a gentleman, educator, friend and supporter of all who met him. I was in many Midlands Theatre shows with Will. He was humble about his many accomplishments in teaching everyone about the important issues that faced minorities and Native Americans. He was proud of his heritage and wanted everyone to understand the culture and traditions on Native Americans through his many outreach programs locally, regionally and nationally. It was as a talented singer and actor and friend that I knew him best. Our last play together was Guys and Dolls at Village Square Theatre in Lexington where we performed several songs together. Will played Benny Southstreet where he displayed his usual magic as an onstage performer. He was a stranger to nobody and supporter of everyone he met. I'm sure he will have a spotlight on him on that big stage in the sky. He will be missed here as there was only one Will Moreau. Til we meet again...

“ There's some people you come across in life - whether through the gift of being related or through the passage of life - who by their mere presence, make you smile, laugh and want to sing & dance. My amazing cousin, Will Moreau Goins was one of these gifted people.

Billy, as I called him did so much to enrich the lives of so many....and bringing our family together to celebrate not only our Goins legacy but our Cherokee heritage as well, was just one of his accomplishments.

The world will forever be less bright without Billy's sparkling presence. But I'm know there's an amazing show being put on in heaven.

You will forever be our shining star, Billy - say hello to everyone for me. I love you

Your cousin,

N~

If he wasn't in the cast of a play or musical then he was in the audience enthusiastically cheering his friends. I could always count on a warm hug and friendly flirtation every time we met up. Theater will not be the same without him. May you fly high with your grandfathers, Will.

I had the pleasure to meet him 22 years ago (today) Amanda when he came to your 4 year old class Thanksgiving celebration. He was in his full, beautiful attire....Soft spoken and enrapturing us all with his presentation. What a gift he gave to the class (and parents) in taking him time to come out the HHES. But then Amanda, I saw him often at everything you were a part of through the years....

My heart is with you, all your family. Our community has also lost a great contributor to culture and education.

“ Heartbroken, saddened by his passing. He touched so many lives. He went to my goddaughter's school last year and really put on a show. He gave the students so much knowledge and got them to see our Native American brothers and sisters in a new light. We spoke at length on many occasions about the history of this country and our shared experiences living in it. He was a true warrior spirit. Rest in peace Will. You were a good friend.

I learned so much from him and I still feel his presence in my spirit. His image and likeness is still shining in my mind's eye each time I think of him. I promised him that that I will help him fight the battle for justice with him. Now with Will being among the Ancestors in the Holy Places, I know we can't lose!
I miss you my friend.
