“ I was saddened to hear of Mr. Sewell's passing. M.L. (or Buck as I knew him) and I worked together at Cromer's P-nuts during the mid fifties to late sixties. I also knew several of his brothers and his mother and father through the Cromer family. M.L. and I worked on Cromer's P-nuts catalog during the sixties. I worked on the design and layout and he ran the printing press. He did a really good job. One thing that stands out to me about M.L. was his pleasant demeanor. He always seemed happy and was always pleasant. Even though we saw each other infrequently during the later years, I still remember him fondly and am proud to call him friend.
