“ Love my Uncle. He would show up on that motorcycle that would have you laughing til you cry. I moved to Philadelphia in December 1983, moved into my new apartment in March of 1984 and in the summer my Uncle was knocking on my door on Sunday morning stating he was just driving through. LOL He was also our babysitter but we called it fishing....took us out on the boat where we couldn't get into any trouble even though we did rock the boat a lot. I never did go hunting but I did tease him a lot about shooting Bambi and nope wasn't eating that meat. Love you Uncle you always had your arms open for us, never yelled even though I know I had you stomping off a lot wink wink.
